

Areas of Support & Process Questions

Resource

A functioning PLC supports four areas of instruction: curriculum, assessment, instruction, and intervention. As you watch the next four segments, take notes in the corresponding sections of the table below. At the end of each segment, you will discuss your PLC's progress and challenges with respect to implementing these Areas of Support & Process Questions.

The Four PLC Process Questions	The Four Areas that PLCs Support

What do students need to know?
How will we know when they've learned it?
What will we do when they haven't learned it?
What do we do when they already know it?
